[illegible] Gov. Hayes.

[illegible] 24.—A reception was ten[dered] [illegible] by citizens of both [illegible] on the depot to his residence, [illegible] bands of music and [illegible] speeches were made by [illegible] Hayes and others.

[illegible] Speech.

[illegible] 23.—The speech of Gov. [illegible] at the reception tendered [illegible] was received too late for [illegible] substance as follows: Fellow citizens and neighbors: I need not at [illegible] tell you how I feel at the reception [illegible] of Fremont and country [illegible] to-night. Under any circumstances [illegible] this sort at my home to welcome [illegible] me; would excite the warmest [illegible] gratitude; but what gives to this its [illegible] character is the fact that the feeling is [illegible] those welcoming me home there [illegible] well, some who in the past have [illegible] me, or for me, and that they do not [illegible] with me or for me. It is simply [illegible] home they rejoice that Ohio, that [illegible] that the town of Fremont received [illegible] that honor, and I thank you [illegible] fellow citizens, Independents and Re[illegible] this spontaneous warm and enthusi[illegible] [Cheers] I trust that in the [illegible] the time will never come that you [illegible] to regret what you do to-night. It [illegible] responsibility that has been placed [illegible] be the representative of 40,000,000 of [illegible] responsibility which I know very well I [illegible] to perform. I understand very well [illegible] by reason of ability or talent that I [illegible] There were accidents and contingen[cies] [illegible] the result; but that which does re[illegible] here, where I have been born and [illegible] childhood, there are those that come and [illegible] result. [Cheers] He then spoke [illegible] time he had in which to [illegible] the reception and said they must [illegible] hardly formed sentences very unduly [illegible] sentiments appropriate to the occa[sion] [illegible] referred at some length to his boy[hood] [illegible] Fremont, his notion towards [illegible] ty, and of many of the early set[tlers] [illegible] since passed away. He then said: [illegible] of Providence, and events fol[low] [illegible] as wave follows wave upon [illegible] is for each man to do what he can to [illegible] that is the duty of life. Let us, [illegible] in every position, undertake to [illegible] As for me, I have no reliance, ex[illegible] which Abraham Lincoln had when he [illegible] at Springfield, when he said [illegible] go to Washington to assume a re[illegible] greater than that which has been de[illegible] since the first President and [illegible] friends and neighbors, to pray that [illegible] Divine assistance without which I [illegible] aid with which I cannot fail. [illegible] I ask you to deal with me [illegible] the will of the people that this [illegible] shall be ratified, all will be [illegible] the other hand, it shall be the will [illegible] shall assume these great [illegible] let us see to it that we, who oppose [illegible] a fair trial and also our prayers. [illegible] thank you for the interest you have [illegible] reception, and that you have laid [illegible] feeling. There has been too much [illegible] occasions in this country. Let us [illegible] vituperation of the candidate [illegible] at St. Louis do not proceed from [illegible] at on this centennial occasion—this [illegible] of our existence—at an example of [illegible] nation can do. Let us [illegible] rate of the nation—the of [illegible] forty five millions [illegible] all [illegible] who visit us how [illegible] conduct themselves [illegible] of this sort. If it shall be in [illegible] we have met here to-night—if it [illegible] justice and fairness shall be in all [illegible] self-government free institutions [illegible] in a way in which they [illegible] been commended before. [illegible] friends, I am detaining you too [illegible] go on, go on.] I know how it is [illegible] hand—with a dread reporter [illegible] Therefore I purpose to close what I [illegible] by expressing the feeling of gratitude [illegible] family for the kindness and regard [illegible] the people of Fremont.

[illegible] Hayes and Wheeler Meeting.

[illegible] June 24.—An enthusiastic Hayes and [illegible] meeting was held to-night. Ex-Gov. Noyes [illegible] King of Gov. Hayes he said he [illegible] sympathy with the spirit of reform, and [illegible] administration thieves and rascals will [illegible] him. He will labor for the pacification [illegible] of the South, and for the enforce[ment] [illegible] and for the honest payment of the [illegible] Gov. Noyes was followed by Secre[tary] [illegible] who was received with the greatest [illegible] In speaking of the ticket, he said no [illegible] calculated to insure success could have [illegible] upon it. "No language I can use is [illegible] to express my confidence in the patriot[ism] [illegible] and trustworthiness of the men."

Bauer has [illegible] Antonio Peroy, of San Francisco for [illegible] wrestling match for $1000 a side and his [illegible] county case last.

The Investigation at New York.

The [illegible] committee of the postoffice investigation [illegible] session to-day into the expenditure of [illegible] the allowance for the building of that [illegible] W. Barton, inspector and [illegible] during the building of it was [illegible] examined. He testified as to how the books [illegible] and pay rolls were kept. He denied [illegible] ever knew that the appropriations were [illegible] before the building of work.

News from Mississippi.

[illegible] June 24.—The [illegible] Washington [illegible] The testimony taken by the Senate [illegible] on [illegible] Mississippi, shows a system [illegible] terrors, whipping, mobbing, [illegible] crime of Republicanism. The perpe[trators are] [illegible] not rebel soldiers who are after Repub[licans] [illegible] but young bucks led by a few old planters.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Home to Rest.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Blaine is better to-day but his physicians insist upon him keeping perfectly quiet that he may be able to leave as soon as possible. Next week will probably go direct to his home in Maine.

The Tribune's Washington special says Blaine will go to Augusta, Maine and will not reappear during the present session. His mental condition while by no means threatening is not as good as his friends hoped it would be. Physically he has little strength and has lost his appetite and the vim which has characterized him for twenty years. He will go into absolute quiet, seeing no political friends, visitors or newspapers.

Amendment of the Enforcement Act.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The bill to amend the enforcement act passed the Senate by a strict party vote. Booth voted with the Republicans. The debate was conducted almost entirely by the Democrats, who resolutely opposed every provision and principle of the bill. The purpose of the measure is to cure defects in the original enforcement act pointed out by the decision of the supreme court in the Grant parish and Kentucky cases, and to frame a law which, while not liable to the charge of unconstitutionality, shall accomplish the purpose of the original enforcement act. It remains to be seen, however, why this bill should have been passed at the present time, when only six days remain in which to pass the appropriation bills, whose importance cannot be magnified. The want of wisdom is more clearly seen when it is remembered the bill cannot possibly pass the House and cannot receive a Democratic vote.

Military Division of the South Discontinued.

The World's Washington correspondent thinks the recent order discontinuing the Military Division of the South is simply a plot to secure the electoral vote of Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi for the Republicans.

Jewell to Follow Bristow.

The same correspondent thinks Jewell will soon retire from the Cabinet. He was a great friend of Bristow. Some think he simply follows his chief; others that the postoffice appropriations do not suit him.

Appropriation Bills Passed the House.

By working hard and sitting up until after 2 o'clock, the Democrats in the House have passed the last of the appropriation bills. No hope that the appropriation bills will get to the President by July 1st.

The Blaine-Fisher Correspondence.

Chairman Hunton to-day telegraphed a series of questions to Pierrepont concerning the Blaine-Fisher letters. It became known to Lord a few day's since, that after Blaine seized the Fisher letters he went to Pierrepont to ask his opinion as to whether the House could expel him for the act, and at same time he submitted the letters to Pierrepont. Pierrepont declined to subscribe to the opinion signed by Black and Carpenter. Pierrepont was subpœnaed, but sent back word that he had engaged passage for England before the subpœna was served; that business was urgently demanding his attention there; that if he did he would lose his passage money, and probably be detained some weeks. So the committee sent a series of questions for him to answer. Knott says Reed's statement is not the whole truth, and the committee cannot find Reed, Caldwell's clerk, who has been under subpœna for some days.

New's Position Offered to Farwell.

Treasurer New's place has been offered to Farwell, of Illinois.

The Army Appropriation Bill.

The army appropriation bill as reported from the Senate committee on appropriations to-day is changed in the following important particulars. The committee entirely strike out eight sections, by which the House proposed to reduce and reorganize the army and to establish lower salaries for officers. Amendments are accordingly reported increasing the House items of appropriations to the aggregate extent of over $3,000,000 so as to provide for continuing present force of 25,000 men and officers, with salaries prescribed by the existing law and also to more nearly conform to the estimates of Secretary Taft in other respects. The principal items of increase are $813,165 for the pay of the army, $291,000 for subsistence, $450,000 for quartermaster's department, $100,000 for transportation and $600,000 for the hire of quarters, etc. The committee recommended the retention of the House provision concerning officers' mileage, fixing it at 8 cents per mile in lieu of all other traveling allowances.

Other Appropriation Bills.

The conference on the legislative and judicial appropriation bill has just reported without coming to any agreement. The differences are so great that the present committee will be unable to adjust them, and a new conference committee will probably be appointed when the House meets on Monday. This is the fourth conference held on this bill by the existing committee. It is not likely that a conference on the postoffice bill will be held till Monday.

Blaine Urged to Remain in the House.

Leading Republicans urge Blaine not to accept the senatorship, but remain in the House, where his leadership is invaluable.

Argument in Favor of the Hawaiian Treaty.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—This morning, Senator Sargent argued before the senate committee of foreign relations in favor of the Hawaiian treaty bill. He urged the political necessity arising from the failing population of the islands and danger of the United States, if the islands fell into adverse hands; the former efforts of England and France to seize them and how this action was received by former American statesmen; the various efforts for reciprocity heretofore made by Hawaii with the United States and said if our government rejects this treaty, which will make the United States the residuary legatee of the islands we will have no right to object to any arrangements they may make with any other power, however harmful to our interests. He took up and met the objections made to the treaty, and showed their emptiness, dwelling particularly on the "favored nation" clause of treaties with other powers, and on the statistics showing that the rice and sugar of the Sandwich Islands could not come in competition with Louisiana and Georgia. He asked the committee not to stultify its former action now that the treaty had been ratified by the Senate and by both governments, and that the House of Representatives has given its sanction to it. Chas. Nordhoff then presented some facts in regard to the area of the rice and sugar lands on the islands. Next Tuesday the committee are to hear Senator West and others in opposition to the treaty, and will then dispose of the subject. A favorable report is confidently expected.

The Indian Appropriation for the Pacific States Inadequate.

The Senate, by a small majority, refused to sustain the recommendation of its committee, heretofore telegraphed, to increase the House appropriation for the general and incidental expenses of Indian service in the Pacific coast States and Territories. The California, Nevada and Oregon agencies and Colorado river Agency, in Arizona, will therefore have to be inadequately supplied by less than one third of the amounts appropriated last year unless the House of Representatives committee can be induced to waive all parliamentary rules and consent to insert sufficient provision for them. There is scarcely any hope of this, but Sargent and others will make the effort.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

The sundry civil appropriation bill as passed by the House contains items of $200,000 for coast surveys of the Pacific; $23,175 for improvements at Benicia arsenal; $31,000 for propagation of food fish on the Pacific coast and elsewhere; $7,000 for removing Point Bonita light house to a less elevated site; $5,000 for purchasing additional land and roadways for Pacific coast light and fog signal stations; $1,000 for establishing range lights at St Helens bar, Columbia river; $[illegible] for work on the San Francisco [illegible] for repairs of the San Francisco sub-treasury.

Piper has introduced a bill to establish a fog signal on South Farallones and hopes to secure the concurrence of the House on this proposition after it is placed on the appropriation bill as an amendment by the Senate, where he is now working to that end.

Piper made a vigorous effort in the House to get the appropriation for the appraiser's building increased to $150,000. He clearly showed the folly of making trifling appropriations of $[illegible] a year to complete a building which has already cost over $500,000, and for the want of which the government is losing storing and paying court house rents to the amount of $[illegible] per annum. He called attention to the fact that San Francisco is the second commercial city in the republic, and when after insisting that this building could and should be finished in two years with a total additional appropriation of $[illegible] he continued to meet with opposition from Randall and other members of the appropriation committee. He denounced them in unsparing terms for their drivelling, contemptible penny-wise attempt at economy. He also [illegible] with scorn and [illegible] has a [illegible] a proposition [illegible] offered by Luttrell to make the amount $[illegible] and said he would be content with nothing less than $[illegible]. It was however evident that the majority will not grant anything more than the committee recommended. This bill as passed by the House appropriates [illegible] $[illegible] for surveying public lands in the whole United States, leaving it to the discretion of the department except that it is prohibited from having any public lands surveyed which are not [illegible] valuable or which are not of commercial value for timber or coal. The bill also reduces the rates of surveys to ten dollars for standard lines, seven dollars for town shipping and [illegible] for section lines except through heavy timber, where [illegible] [illegible]

Page earnestly endeavored to [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] and the cash sales of public land in that state [illegible] year amounted to $[illegible] or more than half the [illegible] [illegible] and was under this bill receiving [illegible] absolutely necessary [illegible] which is manifestly detrimental [illegible] the nation at large. He showed that [illegible] who would purchase timber lands if surveyed [illegible] now liable to punishment as trespassers for cutting lumber from them which they must use, and which the government under the present regulations will not survey. He therefore moved by amendment an appropriation of $[illegible] for surveys in California at the present rates. Lane of Oregon, united with him in proving moreover that the rates proposed by the bill are wholly inadequate for much of the work required to be done. But the Democratic majority nevertheless sustained all the recommendations of the committee, including the other portions of the bill which provides only $[illegible] for clerks and all office expenses of the U. S. surveyor general of California and cut down the corresponding appropriations for other Pacific coast surveyors' offices in similar proportion. None of the items in Luttrell's bill for roads and other improvements on Mare Island were inserted by the committee or otherwise brought before the House. In striking contrast with all those exhibitions of economy is the passage within a few days by the votes of the majority of both political parties in the House of the bounty bill for equalization of bounties, which will doubtless again be killed by the Senate but which it enacted would take from the treasury an amount estimated all the way from $[illegible] to $[illegible] mainly for the benefit of claim agents. Page voted for this bill, Piper against it, and Wigginton and Luttrell were recorded as not voting.

The Booth and Wigginton bill to confirm the California school indemnity selections has excellent prospects for enactment unless lack of time prevents its being reached. The California delegation in both Houses are united in its support. As now amended it meets all objections except those of the jumpers, who are represented here by W. D. Goold, of Los Angeles. Judge Midney has issued a pamphlet exposing the fraudulent character of the protest against the bill to which signatures were obtained by misrepresentation. He has also copies of contracts by which the jumpers agree to give their attorney one half or three fourths of all the land.

Chinese Question.

Nothing has been done in Congress this week concerning the Chinese question. There is considerable comment here upon the letter published in San Francisco by commissioner Roach, recounting his achievements in Washington and saying the delegates are not harmonious. Roach was often seen about the corridors of the capitol and upon the floor of the House, apparently very busy, but the California senators and Representatives are generally on very friendly terms, frequently in consultation and exhibiting mutual regard, with the exception that between Sargent and Piper on the one hand, and Luttrell on the other, there are no relations of intercourse whatever.

The Senate private land committee has unanimously reported against the bill providing for a resurvey on Rancho Rio de Santa Clara: they find the patent is in substantial agreement with decree, and impartially declares the petitioners have no title either perfect or inchoate to the premises.

Jewell does not Intend to Resign.

The World's Washington special says: Jewell does not intend to resign.

Blaine's Condition Unchanged.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Blaine's condition is unchanged, or at least not changed for the better. He has been confined to his room for the past four days and exhibits symptoms of extreme physical prostration. He has a low form of fever resulting from malaria, and his physicians have some apprehensions of its assuming a typhoid character. A change from this climate is regarded as absolutely indispensable to his recovery. Arrangements are being made for his departure for Maine on Tuesday, by a route by which he can go directly home without change of cars.

Randall Gone to St. Louis.

Randall left for St. Louis to-night. Notwithstanding the large number of Democratic members who have gone to the convention, it is thought there will be a quorum in each house during the week.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Logan, of Illinois, called up the House bill to extend the time for filing claims for additional bounty under the act of July 28, 1866, and which expired by limitation June 30, 1875 until July 1, 1880; passed.

Kelly called up the House bill to adjust the claim of owners of lands within the State of Oregon, which was discussed and laid over.

Allison from the committee on appropriations, reported with amendments the House bill, making appropriation for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, and gave notice that he would call it up for consideration Monday; placed on calendar.

The morning hour having expired the Senate resumed consideration of unfinished business, being House bill to regulate assessment and collection of taxes for the support of the government of the District of Columbia, the committee on District of Columbia having reported a substitute for House bill. After a long discussion the whole subject was recommitted to the committee on District of Columbia, on motion of Eaton, with understanding that the committee shall report a suitable bill to continue the tax law of last year and provide for collecting personal tax as suggested.

Sherman moved to take up the House bill reported by the committee on finance yesterday with substitute for issue of silver coin.

Wright moved to take up House bill for allowance of certain claims reported by accounting officer of treasury.

Sherman called for the yeas and nays and the motion of Wright was agreed to, yeas 26, nays 12.

The bill was then read; various verbal amendments agreed to and the bill passed.

House bill for issue of coin was made special order for Monday.

Carpenter was appointed member of conference committee on Indian appropriation bill in place of Ransom, excused.

Paddock of Nebraska, called up the bill reported by him on the 24th of May to restore the franking privilege, so as to have it come up as unfinished business on Monday.

The Senate then went into executive session, and when the doors were reopened adjourned.

House.

In the House this morning an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill, increasing the item for lights on the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri rivers from $1,250 to $1,500, was agreed to. Yeas, 81 nays 70.

The next amendment was the appropriation of $20,000 for geographical surveys under Lt. Wheeler, which was rejected. Yeas 75, nays 78. The bill was then passed. The House, at 2:25 A. M., adjourned.

The House was called to order at 12 o'clock by Clerk Adams in the absence of the Speaker and the Speaker pro tem. After prayer by the chaplain Sayler, of Ohio, was, on a resolution offered by Holman, of Indiana, appointed Speaker pro tem. during the present absence of the Speaker, and then the House adjourned.

It was designed by some Democrats to elect Representative Hed[illegible] Speaker pro tem., in place of Representative Cox on his way to St. Louis. The resolution read originally as follows: Resolved, That Hon. Wm. S. Holman, a Representative from the State of Indiana, be the speaker pro tem. during the present absence of the Speaker and of the Speaker pro tem. heretofore elected by the House.

It has been ascertained that there was a movement among the Republicans to substitute the name of Hon. N. P. Banks for that of Holman, and Conger of Michigan, had been selected to move the amendment. The principal duty of the speaker pro tem., during the remainder of this session, and especially during the coming week, will be to appoint committees of conference on the appropriation bills. As Holman's known views on that point were distasteful to the Republicans as well as to many Democrats it was hoped a sufficient number of Democrats could be secured to enable the Republicans to substitute the name of Gen. Banks for that of Holman. For some reason, either because this move had come to the knowledge of Randall or because Holman objected to be used merely to keep the place for Cox, besides giving up his place on the conference committee already appointed, as soon as the prayer of the chaplain was concluded [illegible] moved that the House adjourn. Although [illegible] last night he refused to [illegible] till Monday, he had remained in town for some purpose more important than joining his delegation to St. Louis as originally intended.

Harris, of Virginia, opposed adjournment and secured the yeas and nays on the motion, thus defeating it.

As soon as the motion to adjourn was made, Holman offered the above resolution with the name of Sayler in place of his own, which had been erased and the latter portion of the resolution limiting the election of the new speaker pro tem. to the time of Cox's return had also been erased, making the term of the new speaker pro tem. extend to the absence of the Speaker himself. The resolution was adopted unanimously, Conger saying afterwards that Sayler was so satisfactory to Republicans that he had no desire to move an amendment. Sayler was not in the hall, and after a few moments the clerk came to the chair and put a motion to adjourn, which was carried. Cox left last night when the resolution, as originally drawn, proposed to secure the place for him on his return.

The Louisville Forger.

LONDON, June 24.—It is learned that Chas. Brent, the Louisville forger, who is to be released on the 19th inst., has voluntarily signed a release of the money taken from him on his arrest, and that he will probably return to America.

Servia Preparing for War.

BELGRADE, June 24.—A battery of field and large artillery was dispatched to the frontier to-day. Reserves called out for service number 6,000 men, and are divided into thirty companies. All arrangements have been made for the entire Servian army taking up its strategical positions by the 27th of July. Should a rupture with the Porte ensue, not unavoidable, warlike action is scarcely likely to commence before the first days of July. It is possible Prince Milan will leave the beginning of next week and issue a proclamation resembling a war manifesto, and then join the army at Belgrade.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

New diggings have been discovered on Thibert creek.

The Colonist says ripe cherries have appeared in Victoria.

There were reports of a new discovery of gold on Vital creek, Omineca.

The bark Forward has arrived at Victoria from Hongkong with 331 Chinese passengers.

A white man and four Indians were drowned in trying to reach Cape Beall lighthouse.

The machine formerly used in the government mint at New Westminster was sold for $700, and is to be used in a door and sash factory at Victoria.

Mr. Waddle arrived from Kootenay on schedule time, notwithstanding the swollen state of the streams he had to cross. Business and mining were dull at the mines. Health good.

The wagon road is under water in several places between Yale and the 20 mile post, and above Boston Bar it is flooded in three places. At the 18 mile post and in several other places the cribbings show signs of giving away. The water had reached the sills of Boston Bar bridge and the structure was held in its place by 10 tons of rock laid on its flooring.

The fertile prairies of Sumas and Chilliwhack were completely submerged, and the steamers run over spots where crops were put in early in the spring, and only for the timber would run to Whatcom. Viewed from the deck of the Royal City the country presents the appearance of a vast lake stretching as far as the eye can reach in all directions. The cattle are nearly starved and are being driven to the foothills, and canoes and boats are in extensive demand for the most ordinary purposes of communication. Below New Westminster some damage has been done to the dykes and Heas' station is under water. Ladner's dyke is slightly damaged.

The Walla Walla Watchman has this: "We make bold to prophesy a little, although we are capable of doing considerable in that line. After harvest wheat will come down to 40c, then ad at once some dispatch will put yeast in the price and raise it to 60c, then there will be a grand rush to the center and bring it down to 37½c. After that our farmers will breathe a little freer and hold on until wheat is wheat and finally sell for 50c per bushel but no less. If this don't prove true, then our name is not Daniel."

The Seattle Intelligencer says: "The police some days ago notified eight or ten vagabonds, etc., persons to leave town, or they would be arrested and punished as vagrants. Six persons of them, acknowledging the justice of the charge, left within the time appointed and one or two of the others were brought up. They pleaded in order to save their [illegible] and that was all, but the clearance was so [illegible] as to add to the danger in case of a second arrest."

One of the White river mills has turned out and sent down to Seattle several hundred wooden marlinspikes. They are made of ash, and seem as strong and of as good shape as those imported from the East.

ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Times St. Louis special says: It is no secret that John Kelly is working in the interest of Hendricks. He has latterly had several interviews with the Indiana delegation. Kelly and his cohorts have made up their minds that Tilden is already killed and they are right. Tilden's friends claim for him at most 192½ votes, which leaves him about sixty short of the nomination. His opponents in ward him far less strength. Next to Tilden Hendricks seems to be the candidate best supported. The names of Hancock, Allen, Thurman and Parker are scarcely ever heard. Even Tilden is made more prominent by his enemies than his friends. All things considered, if there is to be a nomination there must be a concentration upon some such man as Davis or Thurman. Ex Confederates will doubtless be the dominating force in this convention. It is reported the Massachusetts delegation will bring out Charles Francis Adams as a compromise candidate. The Vice Presidency seems to go begging. Thus far only McCormick, of rather fame and Brodhead, of Pennsylvania have been mentioned.

Weather intensely hot.

Nevada Delegation for Tilden.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—Part of the Nevada delegation arrived last night. They favor Tilden in preference to any one else. Hancock and Hendricks they say, have many admirers in the West but there seems to be a general preference for Tilden he being regarded as a representative of reform and likely to carry the Democratic party to victory.

The Chinese Question.

All the delegates from the Pacific slope seem anxious to have the Chinese immigration question discussed, and there will no doubt be an effort made to incorporate into the platform of the convention a plank on this subject. Individual members desire an acknowledgment that the people of the Pacific states are right in their opposition to Mongolian immigration. A small part of the Ohio delegation have also arrived.

Ohio Delegation for Bill Allen.

The delegation is instructed for Allen, but members here say they would accept Thurman or Hendricks, although they do not consider him a strong candidate and could hardly carry Ohio, or any other thoroughly sound man and sterling Democrat. There seems to be very strong objection to Tilden among the delegates, yet under the circumstances they would no doubt vote for him. Hancock is considered a weak candidate and hardly to be thought of. Hendricks would be the precursor of a Democratic Waterloo.

NEW YORK, June 24.—All eyes are turned toward St. Louis, whither your correspondent goes to-night to personally view the field. The probable result of the convention still rests in great doubt. Unquestionably Tilden has a majority, but can he get two thirds? That appears impossible on the surface, but Tilden is the shrewdest political wire-worker in the country. There need be no surprise if his direct arrangements with the delegates near and far shall develop strength where now utterly unsuspected. His large force of outside workers also will wield great influence in the South, where delegates are ready to sacrifice every personal preference for Democratic success as when they accepted Greeley. Tilden's danger is in the representations of such men as Kelly, Schell and Belmont, that Tilden's nomination divides the party in New York and inevitably loses that State, while the nomination of Hendricks or the Great Unknown will leave a good chance to carry New York, New Jersey and Indiana. On the whole chances now appear to favor Tilden. His nomination will make a Republican victory in New York easy. Among the most active of Tilden's workers at St Louis is Senator Gwin. There is still considerable talk of Hancock, who is the choice of Southern Tildenites and the favorite of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, despite the strong feeling against further soldier Presidents. Bayard stands about as Bristow did at Cincinnati, with strong public and but little party machine backing. Hendricks unquestionably is Tilden's strongest opponent. It is difficult to see how Hendricks can succeed with the West so largely pledged to Tilden. Judge Davis' friends insist he is still in their hands.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—Delegates have been arriving from every state to-day, but few full delegations have arrived, consequently it is difficult to ascertain the real position that different States will take in the convention. A prominent delegate from Michigan says that delegation is not instructed but will vote as the best interests of the party seem to demand. It is claimed, however, that 18 of the 22 are for Tilden, and it is probable the State will be united on him. Most of the Indiana delegates have arrived, and they all express preference for Hendricks. They will not hear to any proposition looking to give Hendricks the second place on the ticket with Tilden.

Three fifths of the Pennsylvania delegation are for Hendricks, two for Tilden and the remainder for Hancock, but will support Hendricks in case Hancock cannot be nominated.

It is now claimed that Illinois will give 27 votes for Hancock, 11 for Tilden, 4 for Davis, and Hendricks' men claim that Davis' vote will go to them alternately. A prominent member of this delegation states that he intends making a speech in the convention and bringing charges against Tilden of a very damaging character. He says Tilden does not deserve the respect of the nation and is anything but a reformer. Tammanyites are hot for the defeat of Tilden at all hazards and assert that he cannot carry New York, and that his nomination will defeat the party. Morrissey and his friends, on the other hand, contend that Tilden's reform record will enable him to sweep New York by a larger majority than ever, as well as New Jersey, with these two states and Connecticut the Democrats think they can concede doubtful Western states to the Republicans and still win a victory. The New Jersey delegation are a unit for Ex-Gov. Parker.

All but four of the Ohio delegation are here, and are a unit for Allen, who they say can carry the State against Hayes. The probabilities are that when the delegation leaves Allen they will go to Hancock. It is believed that Allen can carry New York and Indiana, and probably Wisconsin. The Southern sentiment is emphatic against Tilden. Some of the delegates say the country will be disappointed and the result disastrous, if the convention does not put a resumption plank in the platform, and on this they believe they can carry Ohio with any acceptable Democrat. Calculations made by persons who claim to be well advised give Tilden 401 votes on the first ballot. Under the two-thirds rule it will require 492 votes to elect. There has been some talk about compromise candidates to-day, and among those most prominently mentioned is Henry B. Payne, of Ohio.

Senator Kernan, of New York, was serenaded at Lindell hotel to-night, and made a speech, advocating the nomination of a man who will wrest the government from the party of corruption and place it in the hands of those who will administer it in the interest of honesty, reform and justice to all.

Kernan Chairman of the New York Delegation.

The New York delegation to-night elected Senator Kernan chairman.

Forest Park Opened.

A prominent incident of the day was the opening of Forest Park. The statue of Edward Bates, a distinguished citizen of Missouri and a member of Lincoln's cabinet, was unveiled. Addresses were made by Lt Gov. Dorsheimer, of New York, senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, and others.

Tilden Thought to be Losing Strength.

The Times St Louis correspondent thinks Tilden is losing strength every hour and Thurman is gradually coming to the front. Gen. Ewing, of Ohio, who is the great apostle of Allen in Ohio, is determined to beat Tilden, and for this purpose is ready to desert Allen at the proper moment and unite his forces upon Hancock during the preliminary balloting and to unite upon Thurman when it becomes necessary to defeat Tilden. If Ewing is in earnest in this, the chances for Thurman are even better than they were supposed. In case of his nomination the talk is for Parker, of New Jersey, or Ingersoll, of Connecticut, for the second place.

The Tucker, or greenback, Democratic delegation from New York is on hand and full of fight. Tucker announces that a demand will be made on the national committee for recognition as contestants, and hints that if it is denied they will go home and enlist under the banner of Peter Cooper.

Up to this hour two thirds of all the strangers are from New York, and they are about equally divided between the two factions. It is remarkable, too, that up to this hour none of the friends of the several candidates have any figures of the first ballot, except those of the friends of Tilden, which have been given. With the opposition to Tilden organized and the Democracy generally factious and warring, it is as yet impossible to do more than guess, the guess is that Tilden cannot win.

The Times on the St. Louis Convention.

Times' editorial: The St. Louis convention is rapidly resolving itself into two elements—those who are determined to nominate Tilden and those who are resolved at any cost to beat him. Agreeing in little else, the friends of Hendricks, Hancock, Bayard, Thurman and Allen are pretty well agreed that it is desirable to make common cause against the strongest candidate, and the only possible candidate whose name would be hailed by an outburst of genuine feeling in the convention would be ex-Governor Seymour.

In another editorial the Times says: "St. Louis, in fact, is witnessing a sort of Democratic resurrection and bringing back to political life names that have hardly been mentioned since the war. Prominent among them is Wm. M. Gwin, of California, Paris and Mexico, who seems to be exerting his ancient cunning and unabated bravado in behalf of Tilden. When President Johnson released him on his parole he passed out of sight. This year of jubilee brings him back to active service in the party of whose traditions he is in many respects an admirable representative. His ardent espousal of Tilden's cause, is among the incidents that should be noted."

ST LOUIS, June 25.—A train with 300 Tammany men arrived this morning. The opponents to Tilden from New York are very numerous, notwithstanding the opposition of the Tammany crowd, Tilden's friends claim he is gaining strength, but not one will venture an opinion as to how many votes he can carry in the convention. Everything and everybody seems to be at sea and drifting. There is really no organization in favor of any candidate, and nothing but speculation can be given as to the probable result. Prominent Ohio delegates assert that the nomination of Tilden and the adoption of his views on the money question will lose Ohio by 60,000 majority, and indicates that that state will give 40,000 against Tilden while Hendricks would carry both by a handsome majority. Kansas delegates say they will not support Tilden. Southern delegates' opinions are unchanged.

Pennsylvania delegates say Hendricks' strength has diminished from three fifths to one fifth. Similar reports are made by other Eastern and Southern delegations. Hancock's strength is gaining and he is now talked of extensively as second choice. The Nebraska delegation at a meeting last night resolved to vote solid first and last for Tilden. The New Hampshire delegates are said to be almost solid for Tilden. Hendricks is now said to be gaining in favor in Michigan. A delegation of prominent Germans held a meeting to-day, when it was stated that in New York the Germans favor Tilden, and will be satisfied with nothing else. They care little for platform or promises. They are largely Republicans, but are not wedded to party, and with the man who has shown himself by every act of his official life to be a reformer at the head of a party, The German vote, with limited exceptions, will be cast for that party. The Tammany opposition to Tilden amounts to nothing in their estimation. On the contrary it will strengthen him not only in New York but throughout the country. When it is fully understood, as it will be, the opposition of Tammany amounts to thousands of Republican German votes in New York.

The Whatcom [illegible] has called a meeting at Sehome on the [illegible] of July, to take steps toward holding a [illegible] fair.

Work on the new [illegible] in [illegible] of construction at Tumwater is progressing finely, and the frame will be set up in a few days.

Capt. Charles Fo[illegible] has [illegible] and sworn in as county commissioner of [illegible] county, vice Jackson, who has moved into King county.

Sisters Maria, Conrad and Johns sold [illegible] $150 in Olympia and Tumwater, [illegible] of the amount in the latter place. This money is to be used for the maintenance of the orphans at Vancouver.

The Puget Sound rivers having their sources in the snow mountains are full to overflowing, the hot weather of last week having melted the snow to an unusual extent at this season of the year.

The Vancouver Independent says Mill Plain crops look better this season than was expected. The farmers of that region are learning how to work to a better advantage than they used to, hence the improvement.

The Olympia Transcript says: "The work of sheep shearing in the country is nearly finished, and where scab has not injured the fleeces they are generally heavy. The highest price for wool, of which we have heard, was 20 cents for the clip from one flock on the Yelm, the general offer being 17 cents. Woolgrowers are in doubt as to the propriety of accepting the offer."

A very queer "document" was filed in the supreme court at Olympia a few days ago by Mr. Dickinson, deputy clerk of the [illegible] court at Steilacoom, consisting of the [illegible] and pleadings in the case of Pincus & [illegible] acher versus E. A. Light. It was [illegible] of a drygoods box of books and papers, all "attached" by red tape, and the ends [illegible] with the seal of the court.

The contract for piling and bridging for the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad of the several sloughs and swampy tracts of land lying between a point about six miles from Seattle and Black river, has been let by Superintendent Colman to Messrs. Eaton & Welch. The length of trestle work to be constructed by them will amount in the aggregate to nearly a mile, and by their contract they are to have it completed in six weeks.

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 26, 1876.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

Some points are already settled for the fall campaign, without waiting for the action of the St. Louis convention. It is not settled what shape the currency question will assume, as it can not be foreseen what the Democrats will do at St. Louis. It is certain, however, that there will be dissensions in their ranks on that matter, for there is an irreconcilable difference between Eastern and Western Democrats. But while the difference is irreconcilable, the subject may be handled in such a way as to make it possible for Eastern and Western Democrats to act together with something like harmony in the election. This can not be accomplished by the nomination of Governor Tilden. The Democrats of the West do not remember with kindly feelings his undisguised opposition to the election of their ticket in Ohio last fall. While he might carry New York—which is indispensable to a Democratic triumph, upon any calculation of the electoral vote—he would lose so many votes in other sections which are also indispensable, that his nomination would insure defeat. Nor can the currency difficulty be overcome by the nomination of Thurman. He is a Western man, with hard money sentiments, but of a most accommodating sort, as was shown by his straddling the fence last fall. This might be supposed to commend him to the Western Democracy as less objectionable than any stiff hard-money Democrat from the East whom they might have to take as an alternative. But the Democrats of Ohio hold him guilty of ingratitude to the State which has conferred its highest honors on him. Though, at a late day in the canvass, he did let himself be known as friendly to Allen's election, he gave the party but a heartless support, his speeches being rather an apology for even the lukewarm assistance he rendered than an advocacy of Allen's election. Without the cheerful support of his own State, he can not be the man to reconcile the soft money people farther West. Bayard might command the Western vote, and he certainly would get the East and South. Hendricks would fail in the East and New York, where he is regarded as a palterer and a doughface on the money question.

It is a settled fact that the "bloody shirt" is not to be of much account in the contest. The nomination of Hayes and Wheeler takes that subject out of the canvass, since they are not of the "bloody shirt" school of Republicans.

Administrative reform will be a watchword and rallying cry of the campaign. Both parties will use this, and each will endeavor to place itself before the country as leading this reform. But there will be little advantage to either side in the history of the past. Both have so much in their records to be confronted with, that whatever one may say on the subject will be met with an equally damaging exhibit from the other side. On this matter, therefore, it is to be a campaign of promises and a choice between men, based on the general judgment of the country as to the probable character of the administration to be expected from either. And it is altogether likely the people will reach their conclusions on this point very much in accordance with their politics.

So the probabilities are that this Presidential election, in case the Democrats get along tolerably well with their currency troubles, will have no issue in it sufficiently important to control the popular vote, to any appreciable extent, outside the simple question of name and affiliation—Republican and Democrat. That, at least, is the outlook at present; and it can hardly be doubtful how such a contest will result. The Democrats will carry all the Southern States, with a few small States North, and the Republicans will elect their candidate by both the popular and electoral vote, the latter much larger relatively than the former.

STREET PAVEMENT.

The water is now receding, and may be expected in a few days to be off the streets. Then there will be a job of repairing if not of repaving in many places. It is a good time to make a suggestion on the subject of the pavement of the business streets in the city. This innundation demonstrates the unsuitable character of the pavement on the business streets below Morrison. These wooden pavements are liable to be floated out at any time. It is said the water will hardly be so high again. How does anybody know that? It has been on these streets before, though not quite so high, and it may as well occur again next year as fifteen or twenty years hence.

These wooden pavements are likely to become a source of sickness in the city. The wood is decaying all the time, and the heat of summer coming upon the decaying wood must send up miasm. The health of the city may be—in all probability will be—materially affected by this cause in a few years more.

The Nicolson, aside from the above objections, is not so good a pavement after two years' use, as Macadam, which has lain five or ten years. The old Macadam pavement on the few streets where it exists, though in use longer than the oldest Nicolson, is a much better street than any of the latter which is more than a year old. For all the business streets we should return to some form of stone pavement.

The Binghampton (N. Y.) Republican is responsible for this: "A Western fat boy was transferred last Friday from the Erie broad gauge to a narrow gauge train of the Lehigh Valley road at Waverly. His name is David Navarre, and he hails from Illinois. He was on his way to the Centennial. His parents, who are both small people, accompanied him. This Western boy is fourteen years and six months old, and weighs 475 pounds. He is six feet and seven inches tall, measures three feet and four inches across his shoulders, and girts six feet and seven inches around his hips. He occupied the whole aisle as he walked through the car."

A late number of the Reading (Penn.) Times, gives this story: "Mrs. Jacobs, of Temple, this county, was assisting her husband to hive a swarm of bees when she was stung by a bee on the head. The wound commenced to swell rapidly, and by the time she reached the house her head, face, and, in fact, her whole body commenced to swell and be covered with an irritating rash. She had severe pains also in the stomach, and her breathing also was affected. By diligent use of proper remedies she recovered, but has not yet fully regained her usual health."

The other day a man of the name of Rohrback, while eating supper at a Pennsylvania stone hauling bee, was choked to death by getting a piece of beef fast in his throat.

RIVER FALLING.—A dispatch from Salem 24th inst. says: The Willamette has fallen four inches in the last 24 hours owing to cool weather. Has been raining quite steadily for past day or two.

WATER NOTES.

The water rose 28½ feet in the present flood.

The river is falling, and our Centennial is to be a big thing after all.

Over 300 persons came from up the valley Saturday to see the flood.

The river fell from 10 A M Saturday to 1 A M [illegible], over 3 inches.

Eleven inches above the 62 mark is to be [illegible] for the Centennial year.

Although we have been flooded the Oregonian has been issued regularly, the reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

An excursion train, made up of folks from Albany, Salem and points northward came down yesterday to see Portland and the flood.

A party of young men pulled a skiff through, [illegible] B to West Park and F and thence via East Park and Couch's lake on Saturday.

A [illegible] placed on a board with a placard [illegible] thereto which bore a parody on "[illegible]" was an attractive feature among the [illegible] of the flood.

Billy Hart built up a lot of rocks at the corner of First and Washington and designated the different piles 'Cape Disappointment,' 'Seal Rock,' 'Swan Island,' attracting much attention.

A tub race on First street on Saturday afternoon attracted a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen. In the excitement the platform [illegible] the largest crowd stood gave way and precipitated the spectators into the water, causing considerable fun.

At Dunn & Mair's brick yard, in the extreme north end, they complete to-day a kiln of 200,000 bricks. In order to keep out the water a wall of solid clay was built around the kiln and the waves of passing boats were kept off by a barricade of cord wood.

A [illegible] dressed young man attempted to go through the steamship company's wharf [illegible]. Stepping on some loose board he lost his footing, and in trying to regain his balance dropped a gold headed cane which [illegible] to the lower dock. Jimmy Wall [illegible] the nice young man's mishap [illegible] source of revenge.

THE STAGE.

CALIFORNIA MINSTRELS.—This evening the California Minstrel Company will arrive from the [illegible] and Victoria after a very successful tour. Owing to the existing flood New Market Theater cannot be occupied. Masonic Hall has been engaged and the troupe will appear at that place for two nights only—this and to-morrow evenings. Arrangements have been made by Manager Atkins to have the hall brilliantly illuminated. Wednesday [illegible] the company will start up the valley playing successively at Oregon City, Salem, [illegible] and Eugene, and returning to Portland be present during Centennial week. The company is composed of 13 first class artists and their performances are spoken of as most entertaining. The following notice is taken from one of the Victoria exchanges: "The programme, which in many respects was new, was so composed that each member of the company had an excellent opportunity to display his ability to advantage, for no song could have suited Russell's baritone voice better than 'Dublin Bay'; no song could have been rendered with better taste than that displayed. Davis and [illegible] were both heartily encored in their respective songs, the former singing 'Let the [illegible] and the Beautiful Rest,' the latter 'Tell Her I'm Coming.' The quartette choruses were unusually good, and indeed formed no small feature of the concert. Sutton, the [illegible] man in the company, was admirable in his acting, as well as in his jokes or [illegible], and as for Linden in female character [illegible] he is unrivalled. Courtright gave a [illegible] originality called 'Flewey Flewey' which created great amusement, and in a [illegible] burlesque he was inimitable. Ma[illegible] again displayed extraordinary talent [illegible] and were enjoyed immensely by [illegible]. Norcross, as interlocutor and [illegible] acting is an acquisition to the [illegible], which could not be termed complete without him."

WILLAMETTE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

25TH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Second Day.

The morning session began at the usual time following the programme published in the OREGONIAN. The

REPORT OF S S MISSIONARY

Was read by Rev J C Baker who spoke at length urging the importance of the work. He said $1000 was needed to support a Baptist colporteur in Arizona. A Sunday School Missionary is much needed in Oregon to be in the field at least a part of the time. Why not take one of our students for the ministry from McMinnville and set him at this work, paying him a fair salary, and thus develop him and prosecute the work? [illegible]

THE DISCUSSION

Was opened by Rev A Jones urging the execution of and adding to the suggestions and also bringing up the question as to whether we should patronize the New York or Philadelphia publishing society. Brothers [illegible] Hill, Johnson and others spoke on this question mainly agreeing that we should patronize both.

Afternoon Session

Was commenced by a short prayer meeting led by C T Bryant. Ladies retired to the pastor's study to meet with the Society of the Helping Hand. The report of the S S Missionary was adopted. Then came the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Rev F Russ chairman of the committee then read the following:

WHEREAS, The apostle who could say "I thank God I speak with tongues more than they all," was most abundant and successful in labors; and

WHEREAS, There is a growing demand in all departments of Christian labor for the largest culture and most complete consecration, especially in the ministry; and

WHEREAS, The Baptists throughout our country believe that our principles of civil and religious liberty for which our fathers suffered can be best perpetuated by increasing our facilities for higher education, and that our business men like Colgate believe our great need is in this direction; and

WHEREAS, Our Baptist College at McMinnville has been greatly blessed in doing this work during the last three years; therefore Resolved, 1. That we urge every Baptist in this association to make a noble offering for our college, during this Centennial year.

2. That we as an association and as individuals, will do everything in our power to place and keep our institution upon a sound financial basis and to make it a place where the young of all nations, without regard to race or color, may be welcome to all its rights and privileges.

3. That the thanks of the Baptists of the State of Oregon are due to President M Bailey and Prof J E Magers for their faithful and untiring efforts in sustaining under many discouragements, our institution at McMinnville and that we shall ever feel to thank God for sending us such faithful friends to the cause of Christian education.

F RUSS,
E P HACKLEMAN,
J L MAGERS, Com.

A full discussion of the report followed in which it appeared from some of the addresses that the members of the Association had too much neglected the educational work in not giving their support in proportion as others had done.

Prof M Bailey of the State University had visited the various institutions of the State and was of the opinion that as compared with other institutions the Baptists had no cause to be ashamed of theirs. He thought that were all the colleges of the State combined in one that one would be at most no more than a good university. Report adopted.

Next was brought forward the report of the Women's Society of the Helping Hand. Report received for discussion. The society is wholly composed of women, who pledge to give two cents each per week for the support of foreign missionaries. During the progress of the discussion that ensued it transpired that one of the societies whose headquarters is at Boston is regularly supporting twenty missionaries in foreign lands.

Pending the consideration of the report were the reports of the committees on home and foreign missions. Before the close of the remarks called out by these reports the hour for intermission arrived and the association agreed to take up the subject again at 7 P M.

Evening Session.

After brief devotional exercises the business referred to the hour was taken up and adopted. During the progress of remarks called out by the report many facts were brought forward showing the number of destitute places where the Baptists number from 10 to 25 yet have not even a church organization, much less any pastor to care for the flock. Among the destitute portions of the country referred to were the whole of Washington county, Astoria, St Johns, East Portland and Highland, Clackamas county. The report was adopted and D I C Latourette, W Carey Johnson, Josiah Failing, A M Kinney and D W Williams were appointed as a committee to engage a missionary to work in the bounds of this Association and to correspond with the Home Mission Society on this subject.

Rev D J Pierce promised to give $25 towards the salary of this missionary. He was then chosen with Deacon Strong, to raise a fund for said missionary. While they were working at this, Mrs Fisher donated the library of her deceased husband for this purpose and Bro Baker rising to his feet soon raised $25 to buy this library for McMinnville College, the money to go to the support of said missionary. There reported [illegible] cash and $147 90 pledged.

The association decided to meet next year at Oregon City. Rev Adison Jones to preach the annual sermon, and Rev Pierce alternate.

EFFECTS OF THE HIGH WATER.

A gentleman writing from Cowlitz station, sends the following in relation to the high water and its effects:

The N P R R is under water at Kalama and for ten miles north towards the Cowlitz station. It is raised, and the iron is bent in some places so that it must be sent to the rolling mill. The bridges were placed higher than the road bed and thus are in good condition. When the engineers fixed the height and grade of the road bed the farmers pointed to the water marks of the flood of 1862, but no attention was given to it. The water marks of 1876 will compel attention and demand four or five feet elevation of road bed and also rock protection of the sides. This flood teaches the lesson equal to the best engineering. The extension of the road to Portland must be leveled up to the water mark of 1876. Experience is a slow but sure instructor to those who fail to learn by observation. Dr John McLaughlin, chief factor of the Hon H B Co, said to the writer that when he came to the Columbia river in 1825 to establish the chief factory and depot of the company, he looked along the river on both sides from Astoria up for the best site. He liked [illegible] as it was above all the flood marks, but it was too far down the river. He finally chose Vancouver which had benches above high water mark and which was accessible by ships.

If the farmers will build their dwellings, set out their orchards and make their chief improvements upon the lands above the high water marks, they will escape the greater losses in future years which fall so unexpectedly upon them [illegible]. Their loss of potatoes this year can be made up [illegible] large area after the waters [illegible]. It is vain to disguise the fact that the Columbia, like the Nile of Egypt, will have its annual rise, which will be regulated by the accumulations of snow in the three mountain ranges, the Cascades, the Blue and Rocky Mountains, which supply its numerous affluents. The lower country along the Columbia and Lower Willamette will be always exposed to a flood even higher than the present one. One observer says [illegible] stumps on the flat lands of North Portland that required [illegible] feet to [illegible]. We have [illegible] reason to [illegible] the [illegible] along the banks of the Lower Columbia [illegible] Willamette [illegible].

The [illegible] of this [illegible] century [illegible].

Portland [illegible] the hills [illegible] with any place below [illegible] this flood to be vastly superior. It [illegible] to repair damages and prevent future [illegible] back water of the [illegible] ample. The near hills furnish material [illegible] filling [illegible] grading up the streets. The cost now will save larger outlay in the future.

MAIL ROBBERY CASE.

TRIAL IN U S DISTRICT COURT OF MILTON SHEPARDSON FOR ROBBING THE MAILS.

Fifth Day.

Court convened pursuant to adjournment. The court sustained the objections interposed by counsel in behalf of the government in reference to the admission of the testimony of Bramlette who was convicted at the time of the other trial and excluded the confession of that person.

As to the admissibility of the testimony of S A Moreland who was acting in the capacity of reporter for the OREGONIAN at the other trial, the court overruled the objections made by counsel for the prosecution. John Attleberry, who was a witness for the prosecution in the Tompkins trial, being dead, the counsel for defense desired to introduce testimony to prove what that witness has testified to. The court holding that such evidence was admissible,

S A MORELAND

Took the stand and testified: I was present during the trial of Frank Tompkins accused of robbing the United States mails. I was present during the examination of Attleberry as a witness in the case, and heard him give his testimony. I remember a portion of his testimony since having refreshed my memory by reading the report as published in the OREGONIAN. I was acting in the capacity of reporter for that paper during the trial. The report of Attleberry's testimony was written from notes taken at the time and when all the facts were fresh in my mind. My object in reporting the evidence was not to give the exact words of the witness but to state substantially all the main facts testified to. [Witness was shown a copy of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN of August 1st 1872. The published testimony of Attleberry was pointed out by counsel and he was asked if he had written the report.] This is the report which was written by me. By consent of court and counsel the witness proceeded to read the reported testimony of Attleberry, which was as follow:

I reside in Antelope valley 7 miles below the road. I visited the place of the robbery on Monday after the robbery occurred with Maupin, Schutz, Cunningham and Cantrell. On Monday we went out and struck a trail on Maupin's wood road and trailed them over toward a spring branch. We got down to get a drink and I found a pistol [witness is shown the pistol and identifies it as the one he found] quite a little way from the spring. We struck tracks of horses and one foot track. We all thought that the foot track was made with a shoe [a shoe is shown the witness]. I have seen this shoe before. Hanson had it on when we arrested him. Maupin, Durbin, Gilliam and I compared the shoe with the tracks [the witness' account of the comparison was substantially the same as given by the witness Durbin]. On Tuesday after the robbery we went to the place where the stage was robbed and followed along the track looking for the mail sacks. We found the tracks of three men. [Here the witness is shown the boots before named.] I first saw these boots at my house; Bramlette wore them there and offered to trade them to me; we got them in Tompkins loft. Mr Bramlette wore the boots. I am satisfied they made the tracks we found on the hill near the spring; one of the horses tracks we took at first for mule tracks. I suspected at the time I saw the foot tracks that they were Mr Bramlette's. I first saw them on Monday—no, it was not on Monday; it was when we went to look for the mail sacks. I was present at the arrest of Bramlette; so was Maupin, Hanson, Garret and Cantrell; the same statements were made by Bramlette after his arrest. [This witness gave the same facts concerning the extortion of the confession and the confession as detailed in Maupin's evidence with some variation as to the precise language used.] I never heard Maupin say anything at the time of the confession about giving Bramlette money to leave the country and go to his people; the morning which they started below to the Dalles he again spoke to me about the boots; after he took back the confession I told him there was no use of his taking back what he had said; that he had told me all about the boots and that I was going to get them. Mr Maupin said to him: "The boys say you have lied on them." He said "Yes, I did lie to you, Mr Maupin." His description of the road was the same we had traced out. I was present at the arrest of Tompkins with [naming eight persons]; as we were going to Grater's to arrest Tompkins we met Mr Hale, who told us that Grater and Tompkins were out hunting a cow. Hale went back with us to Grater's and we waited there until Tompkins and Grater came. [This witness gave nearly the same account of the arrest of Tompkins as detailed by the witness Maupin.]

Cross examined.—The only new facts drawn out on the cross examination of this witness are as follows: The reason we sent Maupin's son and Cantrell on home was because we wanted to get a confession out of Bramlette. Maupin told B what he was arrested for; [illegible] plead innocent. When we separated we went up the creek; we did not stop near a large juniper tree. Maupin got off his horse and told Bramlette to get off and said to him: "You have evaded the law; you have sworn falsely for Tompkins more than once; we are going to break it up"; that he was going to hang them as fast as he could catch them; that he had one proposal to make. I don't know that Maupin had anything in his hand. Bramlette said to me: "Don't hang me, Attleberry." I had a rope in my hand I untied from my saddle because we wanted to scare him into a confession. I spoke to Tompkins at the time of his arrest and told him to put up his hands. I did not tell the grand jury that Bramlette's confession was voluntary; may not have told him that he was threatened, but I did tell them that he was scared.

[A pair of boots shown to witness.] These boots look like those shown at the Tompkins trial; cannot say they are the same but they are very much like them; remember the half taps. [A shoe shown to witness.] Cannot say positively that this is the shoe shown in the Tompkins trial; there [illegible] tacks or brads across the toe were in that shoe just like this; cannot say whether one shoe or a pair were shown in the Tompkins trial. [A pistol shown witness.] Saw a pistol at the trial of Tompkins and others; it was the same color as this; cannot say this is the pistol, though it was one somewhat like it; there was something in the testimony in that case concerning a white handle pistol but do not recollect whether a white handled pistol was shown.

R WILCOX

Was recalled and showed the boot, shoe and pistol offered in testimony during the trial and asked if they were the same ones which were used for a similar purpose during Tompkins' trial. Witness examined the articles shown him and stated that they looked very similar, but he could not testify positively that they were the same ones. Witness stated that the subpoenas which were issued for David Roland and Mrs Morrison as witnesses in this case had not been returned.

ABNER W WATERS

Was called next. Am U S marshal for Oregon for the past two months; have served a number of papers for defense. I have not served subpoenas on David Roland and Mrs Morrison, or either, requiring their presence here as witnesses for the reason that the whereabouts of these persons could not be ascertained. I have made diligent search for them but have not been successful in finding them; have searched for them in Eastern Oregon, Umatilla, Wasco, Baker and Grant counties. I have searched for them in pursuance of information received as to their whereabouts.

[illegible] Had no [illegible] conversation with counsel for defence about the matter [illegible].

[illegible] WATKINS

Was called and testified: I reside in Salem; am Superintendent of the Oregon State Penitentiary. I know Frank [illegible] prisoner at the [illegible]; know Frank Tompkins [illegible]. [illegible] and Tompkins occupy the same cell in the prison [illegible] [illegible] to the rules of the prison to allow the prisoners to be alone with any outsider. Chief Lappeus and myself were present during the interview. I did not hear all the conversation between Page, Tompkins and Johnson; think they were talking about the trial during the conversation; heard something said about it. Last Monday I received a telegram from Page saying that he and Chief Lappeus would come up and wanted to know if they could bring down the prisoners and return with them after the trial. I answered that I had been ordered by the court to bring the prisoners down and that I should obey the same; that if he (Page) and Lappeus desired to come up and accompany us to Portland they could do so if they liked. I did not appoint either of them to assist me in bringing the prisoners down. On the way down from Salem Page and Lappeus had some conversation with Johnson; I think it was he (Johnson) said he wanted to smoke and asked permission to sit on the platform with Page, to which I consented. I am not certain as to whether the clothes which Johnson has on now are the ones that he wore when he left the penitentiary. I did not notice particularly; the warden dressed him before we started. Page came to me while we were on the ferryboat crossing to Portland and asked me if I would have any objections to his taking Johnson to get a shirt or shave (am not positive now which). I told him that I did not care.

Cross examination.—I had a conversation with Mr E Williams, one of the counsel for the prosecution, in the court house at Salem in relation to bringing down the prisoners and about my having received an order from the court to do so. I think I showed him the warrant during the conversation; he told me that he thought I had better bring down the prisoners myself; the matter of occupying the same cells is under the special and direct control of the warden, and is a question in which the prisoners have no choice or voice. Tompkins and Johnson could not help occupying the same cell.

AD EDGAR

Was recalled. He was shown a diagram purporting to be a map of the country adjacent to Antelope valley and Canyon and the Boise and Canyon City road and various other points mentioned in the evidence and asked to examine it and state if it was substantially correct. After inspecting the diagram the witness said:

I can but say that the map is generally correct; the general direction of the road from the Dalles to Boise is correct. Witness was handed a pencil and told to point out on the map such features of the roads etc, as in his judgment were not correct and state in what particular. Witness proceeded to designate some inaccuracies and also at request of counsel, to point out the distances between a number of points along the road.

(At request of Mr Thompson, counsel for defendant, Shepardson showed his hands to the jury.)

Here defense rested their case.

REBUTTAL

The U S Attorney asked permission of the court to be allowed to examine John Pool, one of the witnesses for the prosecution who had not reached the city until after the case had been rested in behalf of the government. Pool had come through with all possible dispatch but had not been able to arrive in this city before Friday evening. The counsel for defense interposed objections, and the request was denied by the court.

GEO T [illegible]

Testified—I reside in Portland; have resided at Canyon City five or six years ago. I know a man named Geo W Day. He was a discharged soldier, came from Camp Harney. [Witness described the personal appearance of Day.] He had no business; his reputation in and about Canyon City was bad.

Cross examination.—I was engaged in Canyon City as a butcher. Day was there about two months; he was notified to leave town by the sheriff or go to jail; during the time Day was in Canyon City he broke open my desk.

JOHN McCOLLOUGH

Testified: I live in Canyon City; have lived there since 1863. Know Geo W Day. Know his reputation for truth and veracity was bad.

Cross examination.—Have known Day for three months, know that in a general way his reputation was bad; have heard Jos Deerdorf, Day's stepfather, say that he was not truthful, that he could not be relied upon in any manner, that he could do nothing with him; did not hear his stepfather say in so many words that Day was untruthful; have heard Day's stepbrother say that he could not be believed.

H H HYDE

Reside in Prairie City; have lived there since 1862; know Geo W Day; have known him three years or more; know that in a general way his reputation is bad.

GEO CHAMBERLAIN

Reside in Portland for the present; have resided in Canyon City; known Day since 1870; his general reputation is bad.

Cross examination.—Am a sporting man at present.

GEO EDGAR

Have resided in Canyon City for the past 9 years; know Day only by reputation; his reputation is bad.

JOHN [illegible]

Resided in Grant county for two years; have resided in Canyon City; know Day; know his reputation to be bad.

J W CHURCH

Have resided in Canyon City since 1864; known Day since summer of 1870. Day had no occupation. He is the same person who gave evidence in this case. His reputation is bad.

J A WETMORE

I reside in Portland; am a plasterer by occupation; am coroner of this county. I was at Antelope Valley about the 9th or 10th of Nov 1872; I stopped over night at Maupin's house.

The following question was asked, objected to, argued and objections overruled by the court:

Did not Mr Maupin say to you during a conversation which you had at his house on the evening in question: "I went down to Portland with the determination to convict Frank Tompkins and was prepared to shoot him in case he was acquitted, as soon as I got him out of the crowd," or words to that effect.

Witness—That is substantially correct; am not positive now whether Maupin said "crowd" or "court."

Cross examination.—I have resided in Portland since 1852. I arrived at Antelope valley I think on the 10th of November 1872; reached Maupin's house about sundown of that day I think and asked for lodgings; the conversation during that evening was almost exclusively about the trial of Tompkins. I cannot repeat the entire conversation which I had with Maupin at that time. Maupin related the circumstances of the trial; talked about it most of the evening.

The question: "State the exact language which you had with Maupin at that time of all the conversation that took place," was asked the witness; objected to and argued at some length, pending which the court took a recess until one o'clock.

Afternoon.

J A Wetmore being on the witness stand was examined by defendant's counsel and said that Maupin had stated in effect that Tompkins was a dangerous man; that he had omitted more favorable places to rob the stage and had come down near his (Maupin's) house to do it in order to implicate his (Maupin's) boys in the robbery.

A [illegible]

Was called and testified—I know F C Officer in the latter part of June and fore part of July 1872; he was away from home.

T B [illegible]

Was sworn and said—I resided in Salem in 1872 and was Superintendent of Indian Affairs; saw Maupin at his house about the 12th of July 1872.

Question: Did you at that time have a conversation with him? Answer—I am not certain that I did; he was talking, but I can't say whether he directed his conversation to me or Mr Moreland; Moreland was there.

Q Did Maupin in that conversation say [illegible] Tompkins to the bitter end [illegible] words to that effect? [illegible] objected to by defendant's counsel and objection sustained by the court.

AD EDGAR

Was again recalled as a witness and testified [illegible] morning after the robbery he left Maupin's [illegible] and in company with George Knight went back to the place of the robbery but could find no tracks; [illegible] for the mail sacks [illegible] what appeared to be the track of a man in the bed of the gulch [illegible] the ball of the foot had made an impression [illegible] seemed to be going from the place of the robbery. [illegible] two or three weeks after in company with Mr Dowell, Perry, Maupin, Attleberry and Cantrell visited the vicinity; started from Maupin's house and went directly up the valley to the spring branch where a place where a fire had been built was shown; there were some sticks there that had been on fire from all appearance; the fire may have been there a year before; there was some small bushes on the edge of the spring branch, but none so large as those that had been used to make the fire with; saw a great many tracks there and all along the trail which was followed back in the direction of the robbery; they were horse and cattle tracks principally; horse tracks; have had a good deal of experience in trailing stock; used to hunt stock that way altogether; have trailed stock in British Columbia, Idaho, Montana and Eastern Oregon; in the kind of soil in which these tracks were found near the spring branch the impression or track would not be retained distinctly for two or three weeks, nor for three days; have known Frank Tompkins in 1867; was very well acquainted with him; did not recognize the voice of any one at the robbery of the stage.

Cross examination.—I left off the search in the vicinity of the robbery on the next morning after it occurred at about 8 o'clock and returned to Mr Ward's at Cross Hollows; found no tracks at the place where the stage was robbed; went across the first gulch and up the hill, then down into the right hand gulch where the track made by the ball of the foot was found in the sand in the bed of the gulch, then went off on the hill to the right; was looking for the mail sacks more than for tracks at this time; went the second time with Dowell, Perry, Maupin, Attleberry and Cantrell direct from Maupin's house to the spring on spring branch; examined tracks of which there were a great many; am not sure of seeing cattle tracks; saw horse tracks principally at the place where the horses were said to have been left; there were some brush 4 or 5 feet high; don't know as the horses were tied in the brush; saw no brush trampled down or broken as though horses had been tied to them; at that point there was bunch grass in some places and in some places there was none; there are places in the valley where there are mounds or knolls on which the bunch grass grows and between them the water will sometimes stand till late in the season, and when it finally dries up it leaves a sticky or tough putty like mud that will retain the impression or track for a long time; but did not say there was any of these mounds or this kind of puttylike soil at the point described; if there are any places in that country where the tracks are protected from the wind had not found many of them.

Re direct.—The foot would not make any distinct impression ordinarily upon this soil between the mounds if it was dry.

Re cross.—Am not employed by Wells Fargo & Co.; have not been since 1869; carried my own express but had connections with W F & Co., as they had no express on that route.

After the usual admonition to the jury, the court adjourned until Monday June 26th, at 10 o'clock A M.

STAGE OF WATER.

Telegrams from up the Columbia last evening at 5 o'clock indicate the following stage of water:

Celilo—Cloudy and cool; been raining today; river has fallen just one inch since 7 o'clock this morning; three inches since last night.

Dalles—Thermometer 61°; river fell not over 1½ inches since this morning; five inches since 7 last night.

Cascades—River has fallen 8 inches here altogether.

HAIR RESTORED.

If any who are skeptical of the ability of Mrs S Lord to produce a crop of new hair in all stages of baldness will call or write to her at her rooms in National Bank building, Portland, she will refer them to several prominent Portland gentlemen who three months since placed themselves under her treatment and are now in possession of a crop of new fine hair which is rapidly increasing in strength and vigor. Itching of the scalp and falling hair checked readily. Preparations sent to all parts of Oregon and Washington.

Popular—the golden thread cigar.

W L ADAMS, M D, A M, LL D, corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. A lady always in the office to assist in treating women.

LYON'S KATHAIRON makes beautiful glossy luxuriant hair, prevents its falling out or turning gray. It has stood the test of 40 years. Is charmingly perfumed, and has no rival.

POND'S EXTRACT.—Never have we heard, or heard of even a single instance of dissatisfaction. This we ascribe to the care that has always been taken to claim no more for the Remedy than it would certainly perform.

On the other hand new facts are being elicited of its curative virtues in new directions. These new facts are recited in numerous letters we have received volunteered by a host of correspondents professional and lay who have been prompted solely by the surprise and gratitude they have experienced or witnessed from the use of POND'S EXTRACT.

Toothache proceeds from ague in the face operating upon the exposed nerve of a decayed tooth. Rub the gum thoroughly with the finger wet with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, heat the face well and lay a flannel wet with the liniment on the face, also put a little of the liniment into the cavity of the tooth on cotton.

The system frequently gets out of order and should be at once regulated, else other troubles ensue. When physic is needed take Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are a safe, wholesome and natural medicine.

Two American Misses.

Miss Issippi and Miss Ouri are disfigured a good deal by the snags in their mouths. In order that all the Misses may avoid the like blemishes, they are advised to use the famous SOZODONT, which will prevent and obviate all such difficulties.

A WELCOME DISCOVERY.

It seems that a distinguished European physician and chemist has hit upon a combination of three very simple elements which is likely to prove of great importance in the treatment of coughs, colds and indeed every variety of pulmonary disease. Mr Charles N Crittenton, of the famous Medicine Warehouse, [illegible] Sixth Avenue, New York, has purchased the formula and given the remedy to the world under the unpretending title of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. We are assured that [illegible] influenza, hoarseness or [illegible] bronchial irritation [illegible] this new medicine [illegible] as it is efficacious. Our information in relation to the remedy comes from competent and disinterested sources, and we feel safe in recommending it as a cure for throat and lung complaints. It is kept we believe by all druggists.

Smallpox.

SAN FRANCISCO June 24 —Up to noon to day 105 cases of smallpox have been reported including 8 yesterday and 4 this morning Three deaths occurred yesterday and three are reported this morning, with three or four more momentarily expected The disease is increasing in virulence and more stringent measures are demanded on the part of officials The death rate for this week has been the heaviest since the reorganization of the health office in 1870 amounting to 138, of which 4d were children under five years of age The smallpox is now widely scattered in all portions of the city The peculiarity of the disease is the number of cases reported of nursing infants taken with it and the other members of the family thus far escaping Two deaths of that kind have occurred and several others imminent.

Finney in Tahiti

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 —It has been supposed that Finney, the defaulting navy pay [illegible], was in South America, but a young gentleman recently a clerk in a broker's office in this city, but now on a brief visit to Tahiti, writes to his friends in this city that he has seen Finney in Papeetee and has spoken to him. The writer of the letter knew Finney well, and could not possibly be mistaken as to his identity. It is considered probable that after leaving the vessel on which he sailed from here at Pernambuco, he [illegible] South America and sailed thence to T[illegible]. BAY VIEW HOUSE,

BAKER'S BAY, UNITY, W. T.

MR. DEXTER INFORMS THE PUBLIC that his House is now open for the reception of guests. Its advantages in every respect over any other Summer Resort are too well known to Oregonians to repeat here. To strangers I will say that the place is in plain sight and across the Bay from Astoria on the sheltered side of Cape Hancock and very near and adjacent to the Fort and Lighthouse on Baker's Bay a beautiful sheet of water unequaled for Sailing, Rowing Fishing and Bathing The dark forest with its picturesque drives, its mountain springs profusion of wild berries wild flowers and ferns, the horse trail to the Cape for Equestrians or walkers is one of the most delightful Panoramas to the eye ever witnessed The cosy beaches its caves luxuriantly wooded island its views of Astoria Chinook, Fort Stevens, moist old Tillamook, in the blue distance

The courteous hospitality of the officers of the Garrison at the Fort, and also of Mr Munson and family of the Lighthouse, make that place well worthy of a visit.

The Salt Water Bathing in the bay within a few feet of the hotel excels anything far or near for warmth of the water and mildness of its waves far preferable to the heavy surf and cold winds for women children and invalids, while the sturdy swimmer or those who love the rolling surf in a few minutes walk will find a beach unsurpassed in beauty hard and level for a continuous drive of thirty miles At this end are huge rocks stretching out into the ocean, from which fishers take from the sea Bass, Rockfish Tom Cod Perches etc etc. Crabs Clams Oysters &c in abundance, (and the Table will never lack a sufficiency of those desirable adjuncts,) Boats upon the Bay Saddle Ponies for the children Teams to the W[illegible] Beach Croquet Swings, Quoits, etc FREE to Guests.

Prices reduced from the old tariff.

To those who would like to camp out wood and water and use of ground free Groceries provisions milk eggs butter etc for sale at a small profit [illegible] campers can board at the Hotel if they prefer at fair rates A large Livery Stable, two new and fine Ten Pin Alleys attached to the place.

Stage Office to Oysterville Postoffice Wells, Fargo & Co's office also there No raw winds or damp fogs and more beautiful tracks and shady groves cannot be found The only regret the Landlord has, is that his house is not larger but his grounds are large enough and beautiful enough to warrant next season a Hotel worthy of the surroundings.
